

CINDY WEIL, Founder, Creative Director - Enactivist/Immigrant Yarn Project

During the 1990s/ early 2000s Cindy held director positions in the Internet Groups of Ameritrade, Inc. and Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia. After leaning out to have two sons, in 2008 she leaned back in as the Founder and Creative Director of the Wallpaper Collective, the first wallpaper retailer on the internet, and later launched her own designs under her brand I80West. Like so many others, she was energized by the 2016 election and is now working full-time as an artist and activist promoting themes of communion and difference. Cindy is a second generation Irish-American.
